1.3 A Message from the Dean

Dear Graduate Students and Postdocs,

Let me begin by welcoming you to McGill University and by letting you know how pleased we are that you have chosen McGill to pursue your graduate studies or postdoctoral training. We hope that your time here is both productive and enjoyable and we will do whatever we can to ensure your success.

These are exciting times; not only for you as you take on new endeavours, but for the University as well. McGill again has been named as Canada's most intensive research university and among the world's top 25 universities. We recognize that these successes come not only from our talented faculty members, but also from the

be received by McGill departments during the Fall semester of 2006 (check with departments for specific deadlines).

In addition to the McGill Major Fellowships for continuing graduate students, McGill University provides a number of Recruitment Fellowships. There are two types of Recruitment Fellowships. Some are awarded through a specific competition, such as the "Richard H. Tomlinson Fellowships" (section 4.1.1), and the "Max Stern McCord Museum Fellowships" (section 4.1.4, "Discipline-specific Recruitment Fellowships"). Others, such as the "Max Stern Recruitment Fellowships" (section 4.1.2), and the MGSF Fellowships, see "Multidisciplinary" (section 5.1) are allocated to selected academic departments for outstanding applicants seeking first admission to graduate studies at McGill during the following academic year. All applicants for first-time graduate admission are automatically considered by departments for a recruitment fellowship, if the unit has one to offer. In most cases, there are no application forms as awards are based exclusively on departmental nomination. However, students are strongly advised to consult the Recruitment Fellowships section below, as nomination for some fellowships (such as the year's stay in Canada as well as return fare home. McGill's International Student Advisor suggests that single students have a minimum of $22,000 for living expenses, in addition to tuition and ancillary fees, for every twelve months of study in Canada.

Non-Canadian students can, nonetheless, draw on a considerable variety of fellowships and other forms of assistance. There are several large, multi-disciplinary programs specifically aimed at funding students from abroad who are studying in Canada. These include: the Canadian Commonwealth Scholarship and Fellowship Program, the Government of Canada Awards to Foreign Nationals, the Technical Assistance Scholarships and Fellowships and the Canadian Fellowship Program for French-Speaking Countries, funded by the Canadian International Development Agency (CIDA). Applications for all these programs must be made through the government of the applicant's home country, usually via the Ministry of Education. Applications sent by individuals directly to Canada cannot be considered.

In addition, many of McGill's Graduate Fellowships, as well as many of the fellowships and prizes offered by various McGill departments and faculties, are offered without any restrictions concerning nationality. Unless otherwise specified in the description, fellowships listed in this brochure are open to students from all countries. International students should also note that the Graduate and Postdoctoral Studies Office grants some differential fee waivers making it possible for some non-Canadian students to pay reduced foreign fees. Some students may also qualify for differential fee waivers accorded as a result of bilateral agreements between Canada and their home country. See section 4.6, "Differential Fee Waivers", as well as section 8, "Exchange and Traveling Fellowships".

Additional information on opportunities for financial assistance available to international graduate students and fellows can be found in the UNESCO publication Study Abroad, available for consultation at the GPSO Fellowships and Awards Section, McLennan Library, as well as many national libraries around the world. Study Abroad can also be purchased directly from UNESCO distributors in member countries. The Canadian Bureau for International Education (CBIE) produces a free brochure entitled Destination Education Canada, available on the web at www.destineducation.ca.

many externally funded award programs and will provide this when possible to interested individuals. It is, however, the responsibility of the applicant to verify directly with the agency all application procedures and deadlines, since these are subject to change each year.

Almost all funding agencies now have websites which provide detailed information about funding opportunities, eligibility and the application process. Here is a brief list of some of the largest funding sources. This is by no means a complete list and students are encouraged to consult the rest of the calendar in detail as well as to make use of the SPIN Database by InfoEd International to which McGill University subscribes. SPIN is available under the Publications menu of the Graduate and Postdoctoral Studies website (www.mcgill.ca/gps).

National and Provincial Research Councils:

FQRNT (formerly FCAR) - www.fqrnt.gouv.qc.ca

3 External Fellowships

External Fellowships are a major component of graduate student funding at McGill. The primary sources of external fellowships are the Federal Research Councils and the Quebec Provincial Research Funds which provided approximately $10 million. The three Quebec agencies are: the Fonds Québécois de la Recherche sur la Nature et les Technologies (FQRNT), the Fonds Québécois de la Recherche sur la Société et la Culture (FQRSC) and the Fonds de la recherche en santé du Québec (FRSQ). The Federal Councils are: the Canadian Institutes of Health Research (CIHR), the Natural Sciences and Engineering Research Council of Canada (NSERC), and the Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council of Canada (SSHRC). The balance of external fellowships comes from a variety of award programs sponsored by private companies, agencies, foundations, other provincial and federal government agencies, as well as foreign governments and organizations. For every dollar that McGill graduate students received through the Graduate and Postdoctoral Studies Office, approximately eight dollars was received from external fellowships.

Students who wish to be considered for graduate level funding from external sources should contact the specific funding agency directly, as well as the McGill department where they intend to undertake graduate study and/or the GPSO Fellowships and Awards Section in order to ascertain their individual eligibility and specific program application or nomination procedures. Competitions often take place one full year ahead of award tenure, therefore it is advisable to make inquiries well in advance of the date when funding is required. The GPSO Fellowships and Awards Section maintains up-to-date information and application forms for current year. If the application form for the current year is not available in August, the student should nevertheless proceed to draft a proposed plan of study and research and discuss it with two faculty members, who can later serve as referees.

The following alphabetical listing of external fellowships indicates deadlines, application requirements and values as known to the GPSO Fellowships and Awards Section at the time of publication of this Calendar. It is the responsibility of the applicant to verify directly with the agency all application procedures and deadlines. In cases where the GPSO Fellowships and Awards Section maintains an information file on a particular external fellowship, an "OFA" file number has been given. Please refer to this number when requesting information from the Office.

4.6 Differential Fee Waivers

Internal DFWs

The Graduate and Postdoctoral Studies Office awards approximately 130 Differential Fee Waivers per term to international students, approximate value: $3,705 in a Ph.D., $4,200 in a Masters.

Eligibility and Nomination Procedures

These differential fee waivers are restricted to international graduate students at McGill whose visa status requires them to pay full international tuition fees. Recipients must be registered full-time. (See explanation of residency in the Program Requirements section of the Graduate and Postdoctoral Studies Calendar.) Students in a qualifying year or additional session are not eligible. Students in "privatized" programs are not eligible. All eligible international students are automatically considered by departments for differential fee waivers, if the unit has them to offer. Since these differential fee waivers are awarded based exclusively on departmental nomination, there are no application forms. Interested students who cannot otherwise qualify for an external differential fee waiver (see below) should contact the department to which they are applying.

External DFWs

Differential fee waivers are also available from a number of external sources, including the Ministère de l'Éducation, du Loisir et du Sport du Québec. Please note that the Quebec government grants differential fee waivers to staff and dependants of consulates, foreign government offices, international governmental organizations, non-governmental organizations, refugees, immigrants with

J. ARMAND BOMBARDIER INTERNATIONALIST FELLOWSHIPS

The J. Armand Bombardier Internationalist Fellowships Program is unique in responding to the need of Canadians to develop their international awareness, its openness to all countries and all disciplines, as well as its objective to increase Canada's participation in the world economy. Applicants to the program show promise of becoming Canada's leaders of tomorrow in their chosen field of endeavour.

Eligibility: Open to Canadians and permanent residents of Canada who hold at least one university degree, or are in the final year of a degree program. The latest degree must have been awarded no longer than five years from the date of application. Applicants must have achieved high academic standing. Recipients of the predecessor program, Celanese Canada internationalist Fellowships, are not eligible to apply again. Fellowships are intended for study in formal postsecondary programs abroad. Consisting of taught courses, lectures or seminars, the international study program may also be combined with a period of research or work (internship). The program abroad must be of one academic year (a minimum of eight consecutive months) including at least four months of taught courses. It may be undertaken anywhere in the world outside Canada and may include more than one location.

Value: $10,000 per year.

Deadline: March 1 to CBIE (confirm with GPSO Fellowships and Awards Section - the deadline may change in future competitions).

Application: Available from the Canadian Bureau for International Education, 220 Laurier Avenue West, Suite 1100, Ottawa, Ontario K1P 5Z9. Tel: (613) 237 4820

Italy, Japan, the Netherlands and Spain also offer awards to Canadian students. However, the embassies of these countries in Canada are responsible for the administration of their scholarships.

Eligibility: A common condition is that the applicant be a Canadian citizen and have completed a first degree.

Value: Although all of the awards are similar in nature, the value of each award is determined by the offering country. Most awards cover travel to and from the host country, tuition and registration fees, and a monthly living allowance. Several awards also cover books, mandatory health and accident insurance and various other allowances.

Deadline: Deadlines for submission of applications vary depending on whether the competitions are administered by the CBIE or by each of the Embassies in Canada. Please also note that the forms provided on the website can only be used for those competitions administered by the CBIE. Forms for those competitions directly administered by the Embassies in Canada of participating countries must be obtained from the relevant Embassy or Consulate. See the website for Embassy contact information. CBIE-administered deadlines were either October 29th or January 28th, depending on the country. See this website for more information on deadlines and submission information: www.scholarships.gc.ca.

Applications: Applications and further information is best obtained on the web at: www.scholarships.gc.ca.

GOVERNMENT OF ITALY SCHOLARSHIPS

Eligibility: The Government of Italy offers scholarships to Canadian citizens wishing to pursue studies in Italy. They are intended for students, professionals, teachers, and artists who meet the necessary requirements for enrolment in Italian post-secondary institutions (universities, academies, conservatories, art restoration institutes, National School of Cinematography, research centres or laboratories, libraries, archives, museums and other national or nationally-recognized institutions), and who would like to attend specialized courses or conduct research in specific fields. For Italian language study, the scholarships are awarded for specific programs at the Universities for Foreigners in Perugia, Siena and Roma Tre or at other recognized institutions.

The short-term scholarships consist of a three-month period to be used in the summer of 2005 and are reserved primarily for courses in Italian language and culture. Applicants must possess a high school diploma at the time they apply and must be 38 years of age or younger.

Italian language and culture courses of a one-month period are reserved for Italian language teachers to whom no age limit applies, and for 3rd year University students in the Italian Studies Department.
